

2022 FLORIDA FESTIVAL OF NEW MUSICALS APPLICATION GUIDELINES

I. Eligibility:

- A. The new musical's entire script and score must be ready to submit for evaluation. If selected, the first act (up to one hour) will be presented at the June 2022 Festival.
- B. The new musical must have a demo that represents the musical style of the show.
- C. The new musical must have full underlying rights clearance for any pre-existing material used in the script and score.
- D. The musical must be a new work that has never had a fully staged/mounted production and is not licensed through any licensing house.

II. Application:

- A. The application must be submitted no later than September 30, 2021.
- B. There are no application fees or other fees involved. If your musical is selected, writers are only responsible for their travel costs including transportation, lodging and food.
- C. All submissions must include the following components in order to be considered:
 - 1) Title page
 - 2) Brief synopsis (1/2-page maximum)
 - 3) Complete Character breakdowns with specific Vocal Ranges listed
 - 4) Numbered pages
 - 5) Unattributed author's note, if applicable
 - 6) Demo recordings, including track listings, demonstrating a current representation of the music and lyrics in the show, and highlighting the scope and depth of the score, in a quality recording with clear vocals and accompaniment.
 - 7) Demo track numbers written in the script that correspond to the appropriate track to be played when reading.
 - 8) Script and score in PDF format and music demo uploaded to Dropbox or a similar cloud-based file sharing service. Send Dropbox link and application to Roy Alan, Artistic Director, festival@winterparkplayhouse.org with "FFNM Application/<Title of Show>" in the subject line.

III. Proof of Rights:

- A. Submit a letter from the creators that the musical is original, is not licensed and has not been independently produced.
- B. If the new musical contains any copyrighted material, submit a signed letter from the authors and underlying rights representatives stating the rights have been secured.
- C. If there is material that is now in the public domain, submit a letter stating when the material entered the public domain.

IV. If Your Musical Is Selected:

- A. The final script and score is due by April 15, 2022 and must be integrated into one book with all pages numbered consecutively (script and music.) Please include all stage directions, dialogue and underscoring. Where dialogue occurs during a song or underscore, please include it fully in the score, so actors don't have to flip pages.
Note-If an integrated script and score is not provided, the Musical will be disqualified.
- B. It is not required., but we have found it VERY useful, to also have access to the Finale/Sibelius files in order to facilitate possible key changes to accommodate our available talent during our limited rehearsal period.
- C. The final score should be properly formatted with measure numbers and metronome markings for reference. Please double-check improper enharmonic spellings, odd tempo markings, odd beaming, awkward fingerings for pianists, etc. The clearer the score, the stronger the reading since there will be one piano and 15 hours of rehearsals for each musical. Lead sheets may be acceptable, especially if the show is scored for guitar. If you have questions, please contact us.
- D. Send bios and headshots of each member of the writing team for the programs and press.
- E. The Playhouse will cast and pay all actors, musicians, technicians and stage managers.
- F. Plan to attend! We ask that one or more members of the writing team are present at all three readings of your show to participate in the talk-backs. Observing the audience reaction during the reading and engaging in open dialogue with the audience after the reading is extremely beneficial. Plan to prepare questions you'd like to ask the audience. Travel costs including transportation, lodging and food are the responsibility of the writers.
